In 1866 a Turner hall was erected in Kassas City and on January 25th the building was taken down preparatory to the erection of a new building. On Monday when the corner stone of the new structure was to have been laid, it was discovered that the oid corner stone had been rifled of its contents, consisting of a number of relics, papers and interesting rare coins. The ceremonies were therefore deferred, pending an investigation and search for the missing valuables.

THE situation of affairs on account of Cleveland's present effort to rob the people of this county of what few rights they have left, has virtuelly resolved itself down to the situation, that it is the people vs. Clevelandism. This feeling seems to be almost universal and in line with the following sentiment expressed a few days ago by Gen. James B. Weaver, who says: We are now face to face with the greatest crises ever known in the life of this Republic. The president allures the money power of two hemispheres to his standard by openly proposing to plunge the people into endless debt by destroying their money and by promises of furthur grants of corporate privileges. He utters his edict of outlawry against silver, the more plentiful metal of the world, takes council of the titled money changes of Europe and coolly advises the American republic to fall into the procession behind the despotism of the old world in the march of civilization."
